

THOMAS COWAN BELL CHAPTER CHALLENGE

ENDOW YOUR CHAPTER'S EDUCATIONAL & LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT...

In 2018, the Sigma Chi Fraternity began a journey of providing unique differentiators for its members that would propel them in their post-collegiate careers.

The Transformational Leader program was born out of the concept that our undergraduate brothers needed critical leadership skills required to lead our chapters and their future workplace.

Through the trending form of leadership certificates[^] serving as valuable stackable credentials and through the emerging practice of using digital badging as career marketing currency, the Transformational Leader program has changed the interfraternal member experience through an organic approach to designing a leadership immersion for our members.

The process of providing transformational leadership training with skills such as critical thinking, empowering feedback, facilitating change, problem solving, effective communication, creating high-performance teams and many more are now available to our members.

Therefore, in Sigma Chi's attempt to pay it forward, we are striving to create endowment-level support for each of our undergraduate chapters for the sole purpose of awarding educational and leadership development scholarships to deserving members.

[^] Sigma Chi created Sigma Chi Leadership Institute, its own learning service provider accredited through Middle States Association-Commission on Elementary and Secondary Schools (MSA-CES), to develop courses proven to increase our brothers' ability to receive increased responsibilities and an expedited rate of promotion in their workplaces, and an increased base pay in their employment.
